

TWICE-A-YEAR READING PLAN

BY CYNTHIA ALBRIGHT

Twice a Year Bible Reading Plan

On the following pages is a reading plan to get you through your bible twice in one year. Allow an hour for your reading time.

After reading my bible through a few times and after using the One Year Bible and other reading schedules, I found making my own works best. I loved the One Year Bible as it is what got me reading the bible every day. But I found out that I do not like to read a little of the Old Testament and a little of the New Testament a day along with pieces of Psalms and Proverbs.

This is the schedule I put together for myself; it goes through each book one at a time.

I choose to start my bible reading time with a Psalm each day. The Psalms are so beautiful, and they are perfect to begin each day with. You will get through the Psalms in five months.

I also read a Proverb a day for the first month. I like it this way instead of breaking the chapters up into pieces or reading multiple chapters a day. The Proverbs are so full of wisdom, that you cannot read more than one a day without getting information overload; at least that is how it is for me. I find it easiest to read one chapter a day.

I also alternate Old Testament and New Testament. So, I begin with Genesis and after reading the whole book, I proceed with Matthew. After Matthew, I read Exodus and then Mark, and so on.

The schedule is not dated either with months. I scheduled it out by weeks that way you can start any day of the year. As a homeschooling mom, I like to keep my weeks at-a-glance, so each separation is seven days. You can easily count how many weeks you have left or how many you have read.

Lastly, I schedule it shy a few weeks of a half-year. This is just a buffer for me if I miss a day for some reason such as getting sick.

I hope you find this schedule helpful.

Blessings,
Cynthia
